

Bilingual English Scaffolding

Module 1 Resource Pack — Commerce Graduates Employability Program

Hinglish (Romanised Hindi) + English, moving learners from recognition to free speaking

How to Use This Resource

This pack uses Romanised Hindi (Hinglish) rather than Devanagari script, for two practical reasons: it matches how most learners already read and type on WhatsApp, and it avoids font-display issues across different phones. Trainers working in Marathi, Bengali, Tamil, or other regional-language contexts can adapt the same structure — keep the English column fixed and replace the Hinglish column with the local language in Roman script.

Each unit follows the same shape: a short bilingual passage, a small vocabulary table, and a 5-step practice ladder that moves the learner from listening and recognising, through guided reading and one-word answers, up to short free speech. Do not skip steps — learners with limited English comprehension need the recognition stage before speaking production, even if it feels slow.

The Learning Ladder — Why the Order Matters

- Recognise before you read: hearing a word and matching it to meaning builds comprehension before decoding text
- Read before you answer: reading aloud builds pronunciation confidence in a zero-judgement setting
- Answer in one word before a full sentence: reduces the cognitive load of grammar while building the speaking habit
- Full sentence before free speech: a supported sentence frame gives learners something to lean on before improvising
- Practice in peer pods before any trainer-observed round — this is where most of the real confidence-building happens

Trainer Notes

- Do not correct every grammar mistake during Free Speak — note errors and address them separately in the Common Error Sheets from the main program framework
- Encourage learners to keep a personal notebook of 3–5 new English words per unit, written in their own Hinglish spelling for memory
- Rotate pod partners every 2 units so learners build comfort speaking with different people, not just one familiar partner
- This pack covers Module 1 only — Modules 2–6 of the full program build on this vocabulary and confidence base
